Trip Status Report

This is the last opportunity we'll have to tell you about the status of several of the main trips of this skiing season. Please, look them over and make your reservations now!

Laurel Highlands, PA

Feb 1-3

We've already filled two of the three cottages we originally reserved. But, as this goes to press, Nan is out of town and I can't determine if there's still room. Please call leader, Nan Reisinger, for information:

717-763-8094 (h), 717-852-2187 (w).

Black Forest, PA

Feb 8-10

It's kind of like a "hat trick"! Just imagine, a third, inexpensive, nearby, Pennsylvania ski trip in as many weeks ... all as different as can be! At Black Forest you can ski out the door just like at Crystal Lake, but onto an extensive back-country ski trail system instead. The motel-like accommodations are nearly new and adjoin the restaurant we'll use for breakfast (included) and dinner. The back-country trails offer a variety of scenery and plenty of skiing regardless of your ability level.

There's still room for about four more people. Sign-up now!

Lake Placid, NY

Feb 15-21

You just can't say enough good about Lake Placid. With several commercial, groomed trail systems and innumerable back-country trails, combined with nearby downhill and downtown, you just can't beat it! Let's fill the Philo House every night!

There's still space the first two nights and the last three nights (remember, we're doing this by the night) and we may well still have space midweek. Come join us!

Rocky Point, Inlet, NY

Mar 1-4

This is a great trip with a back-country and groomed-trail assortment that will provide whatever skiing style you could wish for. There will be enough attendees to have a couple of groups skiing at different levels of expertise, including beginners. We do our own meals to keep costs down. And, there's an indoor pool and a hot tub! Join us!

We have three houses full and will rent a fourth if a couple of more people sign up. Do it!

Tug Hill, Turin, NY

Mar 15-18

Yes, 'Gliders, there is still skiing in mid-March! As the last trip of the season, people seem to forget about this trip, or take it for granted, or something! But we always have great skiing and lots of fun. The Pioneer Lodge is cozy and comfortable and welcoming. And the food! We veterans really want you to experience the wonders of the Tug Hill area and all it offers to cross-country skiers!

Veteran Tug Hill skiers are signing up, now, but there's still lots of room. But don't just take our word for how great this place is. Experience it for yourself!
